MAROON COLLEGIANS, WELL KNOWN FINGER LAKES BROADCASTERS AND LAKESIDE DANCE ORCHESTRA GAINING FAME

The popularity of the Maroon Collegians Orchestra of Lakeside Park, Finger Lakes Broadcasters, is growing fast, as evidenced by the demand for appearances at out of town functions. Last night, while the Kentucky Colonels were substituting for them, the Collegians were playing at a University of Rochester social function at Windsor Beach, Lake Ontario. On the few occasions that other orchestras are brought to Lakeside Park for one night engagements, Manager Charles Parker has but to take his choice out of a long waiting list for the local music makers. The above photograph, taken recently, shows the broadcasting outfit which plays nightly at Lakeside pavilion, and which will remain intact during the winter, fulfilling home engagements at Masonic Hall and elsewhere. Road tours have also been arranged by their new manager, Charles Parker. The Maroons, reading from left to right, are as follows: Walt Wheldon, bass horn; Morgan A. Casey, saxophone and clarinet; Leo Kroker, pianist and founder of the celebrated orchestra; Adolph Huse, violinist and director; Charles Parker, manager; Reggie Harrington, trombonist; Curt Bar-

AT THE JEFFERSON

For the past several years Frank dancing has been the rule in cabarets the large musical shows and vaudeville acts. Today the tendency is to present seat tap or step dancing which is the essence of ease and grace when properly executed. This season the Al G. Field Minstrels, which will appear at the Jefferson Theater matinee and evening, Tuesday, August 9, present an attractive song and dance revue which is reminiscent of plantation days in the South.

ORWOLL KING AT BAT IN AMERICAN ASSOCIATION BALL

The Brewers' all around star, Oscar Orwoll, is back into first place among the American Association's batters today, through his pinch hitting success. Reb Russell, last week's leader, increased his batting pace, but not enough to hold the honor post.

All the other leaders shed a few percentage points and Ollie Tucker, the Millers' new outfielder, finally slumped clear out of the first ten. Hauser, the Blues' first baseman, displaced him today. Another famous hitter is following in Tucker's footsteps. Dewitt Lebourveau of the Hens.

Right after Bevo was reported sold to the Philadelphia Athletics, for delivery after the Association season, his stick work grew uncertain and today he is barely holding on to tenth place after a brilliant start this season.

The Millers' rugging shortstop, Frank Emmer, has been performing true to form, though, and his home run string now records 19. Earl Smith, another Millers' fly chaser, failed to connect this week as he was on the bench and other are creeping close to his mark of sixteen.

Among his other chores Orwoll won one game on the hill for the Brewers but got charged with two defeats so Zinn passed him in ranking among the regulars. Palmero, the Cuban singer of the Mudhens, has a mark of eight victories and but one defeat to top the list, but Zinn has 15 victories to his credit with only six losses. Sheehan, another Blue finger, is the only one to top Zinn total of victories, but Sheehan's sixteen wins are offset by eight setbacks.

Leading batters of the American Association: Orwoll, Milwaukee, .395; Russell, Indianapolis, .392; Grimes, Toledo, .385; Kirkham, Columbus, .370; Veach, Toledo, .368; Ducean, Minneapolis, .364; Riconda, Milwaukee, .364; Funk, St. Paul, .360; Hauser, Kansas City, .359; Lebourveau, Toledo, .354.
